In our latest update, we've made some decal changes and made some improvements under the hood. Thanks for playing. I would first like to mention that you do not need to have Need For Speed Heat (or any NFS game for that matter) to use this app. The goal of this app is to be able to customize and modify almost every car in Need For Speed Heat without having to worry about in-game credit spending. What you do in this app isn't brought to your Need For Speed game, but you do have the ability to import builds from Studio into your NFS Heat game, if you're connected to your EA account. In addition, the game also supports amazing AR features that allow you to project your car into your real-life environment using your device's camera. This feature can be improved by adding buttons to create a real-life scale of the car, instead of having to scale the car manually and having to guess what size might be appropriate (CSR Racing 2 has this feature). Now for everyone who gives one-star reviews and curses on EA because the app won't run: As much as you want to believe, the problem isn't the app, it's your device. Face it: your device is outdated and old. I'm using an iPad Mini 5 running the latest iOS software, which is a requirement for this app. The app works fine. You can't download this app on an iPhone 5 running iOS 12 and expect it to work perfectly. That's unrealistic. Either get a better device, or just do without. Stop complaining. New NFS looks promising hopefully this game is fully functional, now for actual app reviews. The app itself is a bit in the actual adjustment of parts it would be amazing if there was a feature like NFS: carbon where one can customize all the car parts. Color customization is a fairly simple choice material and the color decal is also a little limited but I'm guessing the full game will add more car parts that actually vary on modern cars but are limited to classics. I feel that the application has been car variations and customizations to keep it entertaining. I fully customized my Mitsubishi lancer evo and felt fulfilled with what the ive made. So in short this app is good but can be made better over time. And recently they even made a trailer with my EVO so I'm happy with how these games and apps are doing so far. Hopefully EA will not intersect with the game devs. This game is the best great quality and great graphics. It's fun designing your dream car or your dream garage. These are some suggestions that I think should be added to the game. I think they should add more like some cars from this year and add another type of car upgrade like you should be able to tune your car, I'm not saying to add a mode where you can drive a car that I say is add a button or something so you can here what sounds like your car and you may be able to change the sound of the car and don't you think it's cool what your car sounds like with pop and backfire sounds? But overall the game is great and I recommend that others should try it. The developer, Electronic Arts, has not provided details about its privacy practices and data handling to Apple. For more information, see the developer privacy policy. Developers will be asked to provide privacy details when they submit their next app update. Similar Game Developer Website App Support Privacy Policy Hey all, just wanted to share the potential improvements I found in Forza FB Group (ironically) for the new Android app, I have Redmi Note 7 running Android 9 and I can not download the application through Google Play like many people, and .apk some people linked here do not work and produce an unlimited loading screen right after submitting the date of birth. Fortunately, today I ran into this solution that worked perfectly for me:All you have to do is download 245MB .xapk from this source: install APK Installer from Google Play, I'm using this one: the APK Installer to install the .xapk you downloaded, and the app should finally function normally! Here is the first screenshot I took: comments 2 7
